NEW QUESTION: 3

The physician of a client diagnosed with alcoholism orders neomycin 0.5 g q6h to prevent hepatic coma.

Neomycin decreases serum ammonia levels by:

- A. Decreasing the uptake of vitamin D, thereby drawing more water into the colon
- B. Irritating the bowel and promoting evacuation of stool
- C. Decreasing nitrogen-forming bacteria in the intestines
- D. Acidifying colon contents by causing ammonia retention in the colon

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

(A) Neomycin interferes with protein synthesis in the bacterial cell, causing bacterial death. Neomycin reduces the growth of the ammonia-producing bacteria in the intestines and is used for the treatment of hepatic coma. (B) This choice describes the action of lactulose, another drug commonly used to decrease systemic ammonia levels. (C) Neomycin's action does not decrease uptake of vitamin D to reduce serum ammonia levels. (D) Bowel irritation with diarrhea is more likely to occur with administration of lactulose rather than of neomycin. Besides, diarrhea is a side effect of a drug, not the action of the drug.

NEW QUESTION: 4

What is the BEST backup strategy for a large database with data supporting online sales?

- A. Weekly full backup with daily incremental backup
- B. Clustered servers
- C. Mirrored hard disks
- D. Daily full backup

Answer: A

Explanation:

Weekly full backup and daily incremental backup is the best backup strategy; it ensures the ability to recover the database and yet reduces the daily backup time requirements. A full backup normally requires a couple of hours, and therefore it can be impractical to conduct a full backup every day. Clustered servers provide a redundant processing capability, but are not a backup. Mirrored hard disks will not help in case of disaster.
