NEW QUESTION: 2

Millennium Investments (MI), an investment advisory firm, relies on mean-variance analysis to advise its clients. Mi's advisors make asset allocation recommendations by selecting the mix of assets along the capital allocation line that is most appropriate for each client.

One of MP's clients, Edward Alverson, 60 years of age, requests an analysis of four risky mutual funds (Fund W, Fund X, Fund Y, and Fund Z). After examining the four funds, MI finds that all four mutual funds are equally weighted portfolios, and that all of the funds, except Fund Z, are mean-variance efficient. MI also finds that the correlations between all pairs of the mutual funds are less than one.

MI calculates the average variance of returns across all assets within each mutual fund, the average covariance of returns across all pairs of assets within each mutual fund, and each mutual fund's total variance of returns. The results of Mi's calculations are reported in Exhibit 1.

During his meeting with the MT advisors, Alverson explains that he will retire soon, and, consequently, is highly risk-averse. Alverson agrees with Mi's reliance on mean-variance analysis and makes the following statements:

Statement 1: All portfolios lying on the minimum variance frontier are desirable portfolios.

Statement 2: Because I am highly risk-averse, I expect that my investment portfolio on the capital allocation line will have risk and return equal to that of the global minimum variance portfolio.

MI operates under the assumption that all investors agree on the forecasts of asset expected returns, variances, and correlations. Based on these assumptions, MI created the Millennium Investments 5000 Fund (MI-5000), which is a market value-weighted portfolio of all assets in the market. MI derives the forecasts for the MI-5000 Fund and for a fund comprising short-term government securities shown in Exhibit 2.

Given Mi's assumption that all investors have identical expectations of expected returns, variances, and correlations, and given the capital market forecasts in Exhibit 2, MI should conclude that the expected returns on Funds W and Z are:

- A. $E(R)$ on Fund W is less than 0.225.
- B. $E(R)$ on both funds are less than 0.225.
- C. $E(R)$ on Fund Z is less than 0.225.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Assuming all investors agree on all asset return, variance, and correlation expectations, then the market portfolio has the highest Sharpe ratio. The Sharpe ratio for the market portfolio equals the slope of the capital market line:

NEW QUESTION: 3

You have an Azure Active Directory (Azure AD) tenant that contains the users shown in the following table.

From Azure AD Privileged Identity Management (PIM), you configure the settings for the Security Administrator role as shown in the following exhibit.

From PIM, you assign the Security Administrator role to the following groups:

* Group1: Active assignment type, permanently assigned

* Group2: Eligible assignment type, permanently eligible

For each of the following statements, select Yes if the statement is true. Otherwise, select No.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation

Box 1: Yes

Eligible Type: A role assignment that requires a user to perform one or more actions to use the role. If a user has been made eligible for a role, that means they can activate the role when they need to perform privileged tasks. There's no difference in the access given to someone with a permanent versus an eligible role assignment. The only difference is that some people don't need that access all the time.

You can choose from two assignment duration options for each assignment type (eligible and active) when you configure settings for a role. These options become the default maximum duration when a user is assigned to the role in Privileged Identity Management.

Use the Activation maximum duration slider to set the maximum time, in hours, that a role stays active before it expires. This value can be from one to 24 hours.

Box 2: Yes

Active Type: A role assignment that doesn't require a user to perform any action to use the role. Users assigned as active have the privileges assigned to the role
Box 3: Yes User3 is member of Group2.
