NEW QUESTION: 3

Angela is providing services to a client with a drug abuse problem. There has been a lot of work focused on the issue and very little improvement. Which of the following is a likely reason for lack of progress with this client?

- A. The social worker is not reinforcing the problem
- B. The client has been placed in a passive, helpless role
- C. The social worker has not focused on withdrawal symptoms
- D. The client is not adhering to legalities

Answer: B

Explanation:

A client with a drug abuse problem may fail to make progress if he or she is placed in a passive, helpless role. The professional needs to move from discussing what is wrong to emphasizing what is right. Utilizing solution-focused therapy, a client becomes the expert in determining how to achieve success. Clinical social workers need to concentrate on the future and direct the client's thinking.
